I know you can find everything online but I'd like to watch some course where I can get an idea of the things that I should learn

I recommend the 7-day trial at infoSec Skills institute [google it. can't post url]. They have great Cyberranges which are guided hacking simulations. Also, try using TryHackme, again google that.

hi If you want to start learning hacking you should use courses on Udemy (warez disallowed), CTFLearn, and CTFtime there are also practical platforms like TryHackMe and Hack The Box first learn the basics: computer networks (TCP/IP, firewalls, encryption), operating systems (Linux, Windows), programming and scripting (Python, Bash, PowerShell), and databases (SQL)
