

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: Bitcoin drops under \$109K: How low can BTC price go?

Stanley - August 27, 2025, 12:55 am

Bitcoin drops under $109K: How low can BTC price go?

Bitcoin bulls are still feeling the heat from a giant liquidation cascade. How much can they lose before a BTC price rebound kicks in?

https://cointelegraph.com/news/bitcoin-drops-under-109k-how-low-can-btc-price-go-next?utm_source=rss_feed&utm_medium=rss&utm_campaign=rss_partner_inbound

Rsynced - August 27, 2025, 1:28 am

(Aug 27, 2025 12:55 AM)Stanley Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Bitcoin drops under $109K: How low can BTC price go?

Bitcoin bulls are still feeling the heat from a giant liquidation cascade. How much can they lose before a BTC price rebound kicks in?

https://cointelegraph.com/news/bitcoin-drops-under-109k-how-low-can-btc-price-go-next?utm_source=rss_feed&utm_medium=rss&utm_campaign=rss_partner_inbound

And next year it hits an all time high of $200,000 ?

JoseMar - September 1, 2025, 8:38 pm

That kind of cascade always feels brutal. You see those huge liquidation numbers and just wonder who's on the other end of that. next year maybe 80k or 200k ... idk

P??sonl?af - September 2, 2025, 12:02 am

Personally as long as BTC 2.0 hasn't been released it will remain one of the major crypto's. I can see it bounce and overtake it's value this year.