Thread: Stanley Fan Award Goal

Omniscient - August 30, 2025, 2:11 pm

You can now earn the Stanley Fan award by replying to 250 of Stan's threads in the past year. Not even one reply a day and you'll be there in no time.

Please note this only counts unique threads so replying multiple times in the same thread will only give you credit for 1 reply.

Stanley right now posts threads daily from News Feeds in a variety of topics including Hacking News, Crypto, AI, Gaming and Finance. Overall 10+ categories.

Should be easy to obtain this and I ask that you don't just spam his threads with nonsense. The goal is to add dialogue to the threads. Staff will be instructed to mass delete spammy posts just to obtain this award. You may also face a post suspension for 30 days.

Thank you.

EDIT: This does not include Lounge threads by Stanley like Daily Flippers or DCI.

Congrats! You're the first and currently only TRUE Stanley fan on HF. Whether that's a good or bad thing because of how much he scams people with flips, who knows ?

Maybe try some flipping and see if being his only true fan right now gives you some kind of buff to win more ?

Pretty nice idea for an Award Goal, glad to see you coming up with new ideas to help gain new Awards, but also incentivizing users to become active again. Killed 2 birds with one stone with this one.

Congratulations to Jamika for being the first, and only person to achieve the Award already.

Who would of ever thought all those posts on his threads would pay off in the long run. That's why it pays to remain active, even when not incentivized by an Award Goal.

Nothing like having the mastermind head of flipping scams on my profile. Guess I'll go for it nevertheless.

Is it a glitch that I'm already at 56%? I'm sure ohhhh the daily check ins.... Omniscient you going to let that slide or make adjustments?

NoSuchAgency - August 31, 2025, 2:32 am

Hey! So I like the AI threads, but I really wish Stanley would summarize more of the article in the posts. I'm not sure if that's something you're allowed to do, but the WIRED posts are all paygated, and I would like to read em. Typically when they interest me I just have chatgpt read it for me.

Plus would be great to see stanley powered up by chatgpt for replying to threads as Stanley. use like gpt 4o-mini and it'll be really cheap I imagine. (Or get crazy and host a local llm on a rented gpu)

Nostre - August 31, 2025, 5:10 am

Reminds me of Invader Zim when I was a kid. It's a great looking award that's easily obtained.

Win-win situation.

May just leave it. It's still a 250 post total so you have a ways to go. I might review all those DCI threads and maybe even delete them. I have to think on it.

Won't be just me, it'll be almost every HF user that has the DCI award that'll already be past half way.

Daily Flipper threads too.

I'll prune some of them now.

Actually, have a better idea I implemented. Lounge is exempt. So any Stanley thread in Lounge like Flipper or DCI won't count.

Good way to go about it. Seems Jamika and Deany got quite lucky being at 100% already with those posts applying. I'm guessing without them they'd have a fair bit of posting to do still like the rest of us now ?

I dont know the statics tbh , but i replied on posts outside lounge too , actually used stanely activity to increase mine too in Replies and ppd

I don't mind setting it back or withdrawing it from me if omni sees that in favour of hf and equity though

First, I didn't say all... you're the one who said all my replies are like that. Do you have proof of that?

Second, review my replies and you'll find that I wrote I'm ready to remove the prize and start together with everyone.

So honestly, it's crazy... I set my mind on getting this award really fast, like in 1–2 days, but I don't know if I can. I've already run out of words and I feel mentally exhausted, lol.

Right now I'm on August 27th, the day Stanley posted (I started today and worked my way backwards, like Sept 1st, Aug 31st, etc.). I don't even know how many comments I've posted, but it shows 24%. I only started today.

It's currently 5:50 AM and I'm dead tired, but I'll still push out a few more comments.

What am I doing? I don't read the full article from the links Stanley posts, just enough to get the gist and comment. But I've got a question for those who already have this award:

How and where did you post? Because I've made a ton of comments but I haven't really seen comments from people who already earned the award... Or is it because you guys were posting on Stanley's threads throughout the whole past year, like from 2024 until now, and that's what counts?

BTW, I'm happy for those who already got it, and I hope I can grab it soon too. I told myself 1–2 days, but now it feels impossible...

I'm dead tired, lol.?

I've been seeing you on the grind with posting on those Stanley threads, keep it up haha. Maybe it will help motivate some others to do the same. As for the 2 people that have the award currently, it's because they already had posts on 250+ Stanley threads in the past year, mainly on the Daily Check In and Daily Flippers threads. They lucked out as Omni has since made it so no Stanley Lounge threads like those mentioned count towards the award. They had enough to be at 100% already where as many of us weren't quite there, but did have a decent chunk of progress that is now reset. Assuming he knows that's where the majority of their posts came from, he must have just not wanted to and or felt right taking the award away from them. Best of luck with the rest of your progress!

Good luck man

As how i got it , idk tbh , i post on many many sections , actually started because stanely was the only active poster and i wanted to raise ppd cuz mookie asked me to as he is the buyer of my signature

Tbh i think it would be hard too if we all start again ngl , but i win before October fest with 600 replies and 30 thread , so i can still win it , may be in a month by max

Good luck my friend , i remember we met in a thread of stanely before yesterday lol

Well, after 43 hours, I finally got it. It's been a long road, and I have to admit , there were plenty of threads where I had to turn to ChatGPT just to understand better what it's all about... Honestly, the work was exhausting, and I don't think I'd ever put myself through this again.?

Congrats! I figured you'd get it today or tomorrow with how crazy you were going ?

Probably feels good to have it achieved now though. I'll definitely get it at some point, but it will likely be a pretty slow burn. Seems that will be the case for most others too that care to work towards it. On the bright side to such though, replying to 1 or 2 Stanley threads a day for instance is hardly a tough task or something that feels like a chore. For anyone that worked towards the daily check in award, that's a good way to look at it. Minimal effort, but that is consistent will guarantee you the award at some point down the line ?
