Thread: Marketing gun for hire | UK & world wide

54R0x - September 1, 2025, 12:25 pm

Alright lads,

I was recently made redundant from a marketing agency in the uk, so I'm taking on freelance work. I've built campaigns, managed ad spend, designed graphics, and put together websites for a wide range of clients. Now I'm offering the same skills here without the agency price tag.

What I can do:

Social media growth and management

Graphic design (ads, banners, logos, branding)

Paid ads (Facebook, Instagram, TikTok, Google)

Web development (clean, responsive, built to convert)

Why bother with me:

a decade Solid experience

No inflated agency costs

Quick and reliable turnaround

Straightforward communication, no nonsense want to get the ball rolling? drop me a message with what you need. Intro rates for forum members.

Funny how you've managed to write a whole reply without adding anything of value. Someone's offering actual skills and services, and the best you can do is roll your eyes from the sidelines.

If you're not interested, fair enough, but maybe save the commentary for when you've got something useful to say.
