Thread: \$WLFI- Pump & Trump?

World Liberty Financial, a project backed by Trump and other departments listed on major exchanges this morning.

The price is at .218 and has fallen over 22.24% so far. Early investors reportedly got in as low as $0.01, so big sell pressure at these levels isn't surprising.

While WLFI has political and institutional backing, the broader crypto market is shaky today, adding to the downward momentum. Personally, I'll be waiting for a potential pullback closer to the $0.15 range before considering buying any more, my current avg is at .22

What do you think: are you buying WLFI here, or waiting it out? ?

If I knew about a presale at the beginning, it would've been a great bag. But honestly, the time I've learned about WFLI and it's already at 45 cents. Didn't find it worth buying.

A lot of people were IN on the pre-sale of this, including Justin Sun and the likes. I'd say it's going to absolute SH*T.
