Ex-Celsius CEO set to start 12-year prison sentence this week

Alex Mashinsky pleaded guilty to two felony counts in December, admitting in court to making false statements about the platform's Earn Program.

He promised financial freedom, now he's losing his own. Fraud always has the worst ROI in life.

Mashinsky finally heading to prison, 12 years is a long time, but a lot of people lost big with Celsius, so this was bound to catch up to him.

Saying false things about the Earn Program was not a slip, it was criminal.
People lost money because of those lies.
