What caused the account to be trade banned? That's a huge L for the account

Most likely scamming for items or the account was used as a bot for an old gambling site. I don't see this selling for your asking price but gl with sales OP

Asking price is absolutely insane for assets that have been tainted and have no value. Maybe 5% on the dollar at best.

Gigantopithecus - September 15, 2025, 1:26 pm

Going rate for trade banned accounts is around 4-5% Steam Market value.

Here's a good look at a profile that supposedly sells them, https://x.com/cs2_accounts?lang=en.

You could have better luck posting this on a Chinese forum as well. I'd look into that if you're hurting for money. GLWS.

I wish you the best of luck selling this, shame all the skins got tainted. I do hope you find a seller, I may even be interested if the price wasn't where it is at, everyone else above is correct. 4-5% of inventory value is going standard market rate. If you do decided to adjust price to market rate please do let me know.

Any update on the price?

Seeing how everyone is offering around 4-5% I'd like to know if you're willing to go with something around that.

Honestly for what he's asking. If he doesn't adjust the price it might just be in his best interest to keep it.

I've been waiting to see if price changes but nothing since my last post.

$3,000 for this account is outrageous.

Business™ - October 16, 2025, 1:00 pm

Price updated to 2000$.

Business™ - October 20, 2025, 11:34 am

Bump. Accepting offers through PM [warn]

SwimmingPool - October 31, 2025, 12:17 pm

no shot. It is maybe worth $500 or less. You got that ban for gambling. I'd offer $250.

Business™ - November 2, 2025, 5:41 pm

Price updated. Im asking now 10% of items unlocked value - 1,500$

If somehow someone knows how to unban this account it could be a huge payout.

The account was used in gambling a few years back.

Remember, you can use the items in premier, face it normally

It just wont let you sell because of the warning "trade ban".

Business™ - November 10, 2025, 10:06 am

Im online, send me offers through PM

Best Regards

If you genuinely gambled without any connection to the website (being an owner, advertising it in your name, etc.), then there's actually a slight possibility that Steam will unban your account. If I had a $15k inventory, I would constantly open support tickets daily. Probably would figure out who works at Valve and message them personally describing your situation. That's if you really didn't do anything illicit.

Tons of people gamble, it's part of the economy and creates liquidity for Steam's market to do so well. Same goes for the third party websites that allow you to sell items for cash, without them, the marketcap would crash.

But yeah, some people have had trade bans lifted, there's a video I found of a guy who mentions he spammed Steam constantly with support requests and they eventually caved:
