Everyone has that one food that just hits the spot, but nobody really talks about it.
What's your most underrated comfort food that deserves more love?

For me it's definitely fried eggs with toast simple, quick, and always tastes perfect, something to eat late night or fresh in the morning. I know its a basic answer but imo it doesnt get the praise it deserves.

How about you all? :)

Roasted vegetables.
Sweet, caramelized and comforting.

Sandwiches made at home plus lemonade. I enjoy this combo in summers
