Thread: What is something you couldn't live without?

onlineuser | D3RFER - October 1, 2025, 10:57 am

I was actually on my way to a store to buy some nasal spray, but decided to write this thread first.

It got me thinking—what's something you absolutely can't live without?
(Hint: coffee doesn't count, haha.)

For me, it's nasal spray. I was born with a defect that makes the inside of my nose crooked, and sometimes I can't breathe properly through it. It affects my sleep and basically everything else. Because of that, I end up using nasal spray for months at a time. I know it's extremely unhealthy, and I really should get surgery. But I guess I've just been too lazy to get the process started.

This motivated me to do it, thinking about how unhealthy it actually is using nasal spray all the time.

I am absolutely a nerd, but I also enjoy to take days off completely, not long ago, I deleted all of my social medias.

Made me a lot less stressed to be honest.

Fiance, family, friends, or solid connections

I used to think internet, etc, but meh, I would push an OFF button if I could Haha, never really been into anime.

Where should I start, if I want to see something?

Hmmm.

Family +1, Finance +1, friends +1 - But really don't need more than a couple of friends, that's fine enough.

I would turn aspects of the internet off, if I could, for sure.

Growing up nowadays and when I was a kid, is two completely different things, and is sad in many ways.

For an example, when I was a kid, I would walk up and knock on the door, to ask if my friend could come out and play.

Nowadays, if they even are together, they text each other.

Sad in my eyes.
