Thread: Do you want your children to follow in your career footsteps?

Jamika - October 2, 2025, 2:35 am

Hello everyone,

The question is simple: Do you want your children to do the same work as you? Yes or no, and why?

For me... honestly, no, I don't wish that for them. I think my work is tough. I might advise them to travel abroad or perhaps study something different that's more in demand and brings a higher income.

What about everyone else?

I blame on never having children but if I would I'm gonna say no.

It's a very ungrateful business.

Honestly, not sure if I want to have any kids. Especially how the country is.
