Only merch I own are the gunpla model kits. But then I don't hardly consider em merch, more of hobby item.

The only "anime merch" that I have would be some pops and a few small figures. but nothing extensive. I don't have a ton of room in my office for more stuff to display or else I would have some gundam models.

I have a few dragon bal figures of Goku, vegeta and Broly and some demon slayer models

Nah I don't really own that much merch at the moment.

I currently own two separate companies that sell anime merch, so yes I have a lot.
