Hey hey,

What website would you like to see as a return & for what reason?

Perhaps the silkroad? Fileice maybe to relive the HF CPA glory days?

ThemeStream but made so people couldn't scam it which destroyed it.

Never heard of this website before. What was it about and how did it get exploited?

You got paid for writing about anything you wanted other than adult content.

I forget how people were scamming it. But I remember realising they were. I found this blog about it but it doesn't mention the scamming.

I spent a lot of time on coffeebreakarcade. It is not at all what it was before, so that why I'd bring it back.

There was this snowfight game on there that was badass.

The only site I can think of is Plug.DJ. It was pretty cool to idle in rooms with people who shared my music taste, and I discovered a lot of new songs through that site.

Oooh that one actually sounds super cool! It's a great way to discover & share music within your own little niche.

It was a very well-implemented site, but they somehow lacked funds, which caused the site to shut down in 2015. It baffles me, though, because a lot of people paid money for cosmetics and other features.

Damn. Maybe they had some bad luck or someone did an exit "scam" ?
