Hey hey,

What if you been given admin rights to reality. What would be the first command you do? What else would you change?

I would be to erase poverty worldwide and then I'd make sure healthcare and education are freely accessible to all. Then for the last one I'd lock in peace to prevent wars.

I hear ya, the people who could actually make a difference in this world rarely do.

It's like the whole Mr beast controversy. I mean sure there some shady stuff going on but atleast he does something good right?

Exactly, even the small kindnesses matter in a big way. Whatever the motives, good actions still help. That's something worth appreciating.?

Code split -I 100000 ~/All the money in the world.txt | cat All the money in the world_* > all_pepole.txt

I have no idea if I made any mistakes while writing this, but the point is that each of us should get a million green ??

Game.AddToInventory("Items.money", 9999999999)

Hopefully that one works. Works in Cyberpunk.

I would give humanity a warning pop-up before doing anything stupid.
Then I would watch most still click continue.
