Someone ripped me who is now banned for 1 year of telegram premium and when I said, I'd post about it they threatened to have my discord close for stolen CC, since I was using him for getting Discord Nitro.

Really sad this is where we are, remember when using these. You are always at risk of losing your accounts if they become cunts.

Buy from people who might charge few bucks more but are reputed sellers. New sellers will come & go but who have established shops since years won't go anywhere.

If that seller is still on HF / other forum, you can report to staff directly without posting publicly I guess?

Always deal with old and trusted members over here with HF contract system.
