I swear COD is just regurgitated trash, with new or old mechanics revived.

I'm hyped for Battlefield 6, it looks like they've gotten back to their roots.

No battlepass, no skins, just good old fashion modern combat.

Battlefield and gta6 are my favorite type , may be other games is better, but i still love those

COD use to be my shit, GTA as well. Would love to get back into it - if I had the time

GTA 6 is the one I have been waiting for.

The open world and gameplay look insane.

Like most others its probably just GTA 6, haven't been super hyped for a game since like Skyrim.

I've been playing MGS Delta lately, but for a long time now, R6 Mobile has been consuming my attention to such an extent that I completed the battle pass in one day ?

Honestly, the only hyped release I am looking forward to with great interest that I will pick it up without a doubt is Crimson Desert and GTA 6. As I get older, I have to choose the titles I am going to be playing. Not enough free time in hand anymore.

007 right now

Supposed to be remaking Assassins Creed Black Flag. I'm looking forward to that.
