Thread: How to relax on a day off?

How do you relax on a day off when you have been stressed.

I am talking specifically something that requires no plans. Like I can't go travel or anything.

Ideally something that requires no money or very little.

Work on a hobby/project that you will enjoy to make progress on.. Chat with some friends, watch a movie or play a new game.. ^ _ ^

I recently got into lego and I find that helps a lot. That with a movie in the background.

Def recommend building one. Just completed one of mine at the brewery down the street with some friends over like a week and a half. Was very fun

I go hiking in the mountains to clear my head.

Fresh air fixes everything.
