Thread: Were you born lucky or unlucky?

Lowkey - October 4, 2025, 12:06 pm

Generally it seems some people "have all the luck" but sometimes others get the short end of the stick.

Do you think you were born lucky?

Deany - October 4, 2025, 2:22 pm

If I have all limbs and not blind pretty lucky

itcorp - October 4, 2025, 2:39 pm

People often focus more on what they lack than on what they already have. When we truly start appreciating what we have, we realize how happy and fortunate we really are.

Jamika - October 4, 2025, 3:20 pm

You could say I wasn't the luckiest, but I was generally accepting my life.

JoshAllen - October 4, 2025, 4:16 pm

Unlucky. I never win contests or anything that would make me think I am lucky.

plops - October 4, 2025, 4:44 pm

I am on a pretty balanced life I think. Lucky seems to happen. But I never really consider myself to have bad luck, it is usually me overlooking something or making the wrong decision.

Lowkey - October 4, 2025, 11:19 pm

Seems like a lot of unlucky people...

Oh_Well - October 5, 2025, 12:05 am

I think I was born lucky, somehow everything always works out for me, even with the most random ways.

How about you?

sharn - October 5, 2025, 2:23 am

Sometimes I feel lucky, other times cursed.
Life is a mix.

I have the same experience, maybe 95% luck and 5% unlucky sometimes.

Yanix - October 5, 2025, 2:43 am

I don't say I was born lucky, but rather blessed in small ways. I have had my highs and lows, but I do appreciate what I have. Luck may come and go, but gratitude remains.

i think i was born luck , in many fields i will try to name them :

Parents wise (lucky)

Siblings Wise (lucky)

Peers and friends wise (Extremely unlucky but i learned a lot from the experience so its kind of even to me)

Physical appearance wise (lucky)

mental health and IQ wise (lucky) country i was born at (lucky)

the jot that i think i was destined to work and i am approaching now (unlucky;till now at least)

Lowkey - October 6, 2025, 4:34 pm

Good to see that there are many luck filled members of the forum. We definitely need more.

Mech - October 6, 2025, 6:30 pm

I think I am naturally just unlucky, scratch offs, gambling, life in general. I'm just in general an unlucky person.

sniffmarble - October 7, 2025, 12:07 am

Extremly lucky, but in things that most of people wouldnt notice. But if you have been homeless, addicted, abused. Its surprising how much life gives to you. Gifts another battle, because amazed by my resilience hkub - October 7, 2025, 2:49 am i would say just being able to be born and have life make us lucky as many arent given the opportunity and are killed at birth, so to be part of the fortunate percentage that made it to this earth i would say lucky

Bastille - October 7, 2025, 3:46 am

It depends, but generally speaking I think I was born lucky.

Few years ago I saw an image that said something like "There was a lot of chances to born in a third-world country, and instead you're in a developped one, be grateful"

Jinu - October 7, 2025, 3:47 am

I think luck plays a part, but a lot depends on how you respond to situations. I wouldn't say I was born lucky, but I have worked to make the most of opportunities that come my way. What about you?

So unlucky

RangoWorld - October 9, 2025, 1:11 am

As a child. My parents tried their best that I don't think too little of my life. But comparatively to the majority. I was born unlucky.

But hey. It's done. That can't be changed. But hopefully I can climb the ladder and become a light for those who were born unlucky too.

SAD!

diablospartan - October 10, 2025, 2:22 am

In my case i born happy but unlucky i was been put in a very bad place

7 - October 10, 2025, 2:45 am

hmm... That's a difficult one. False lucky I think, then when I learnt it broke me enough to forge the steel and now its not luck that matters its persistence, strength and karma.

You can change that with your words.

Tell yourself that you are cool and lucky and doing great things every single day when you wake up AND before bed.
