Thread: What do you think defines a good day?

leste - October 4, 2025, 3:13 pm

For me, a good day is when I wake up without stress, spend time doing something I enjoy, and end the day feeling peaceful. Engaging in my hobbies...

It's only defined a good day when I am in bed and I feel accomplished. The day itself is stressful, anxious, funny, social, strenuous. If it can get a healthy bit of everything while being able to check some boxes, it is good.

A good day is when everything goes smoothly and nothing feels forced.

I end it satisfied.
