Time is the real issue in my life, I'm trying to do so many things and I just can't make it work sometimes.

Always on the grind

Wake up, do work, go home, sleep, repeat. Throw in hang out with friends every so often and call it an average day

Work and video games when I am stuck at home for work, outside of work I like spending time with my wife, go travel, explore and run out with my camera taking photographs.
