The OG AC games for me too. It's just hard to select just one favorite video game. Because over the years, there have been so many. Red Dead Redemption 2 is up in top 3 for me personally and GTA V was definitely a big one for me, I was hooked into the whole 3 protagonist gameplay. As the GTA 4 story felt short and too much depressing.

In the past? WoW

Now? probably chess or texas holdem, although I don't play either very often anymore.

A life without games is better for me, but I did try out LoL the other weekend on a whim after someone here said it's worth a shot. I just can't get into them... I am too acutely aware that I could be learning instead of playing.

Playing GTA V with some friends.

Running around and causing some chaos.
