Thread: So sick of Taylor Swift

Aeowulf - October 5, 2025, 9:38 am

I am so sick of hearing about Taylor Swift. her music all sounds the same, its always about a boy, grown women fangirl over her, and we can't even get away from her when watching football.

I am so tired of hearing and seeing anything about Taylor Swift.

Hackers - October 5, 2025, 10:01 am usually I like her, but on this recent album I somehow had it on in the background and didn't replay one song, or really remember any songs either.

I need to give it a more intentional listen, but it blended together or was background noise for me when I did the first album playthrough

I was working though, and I can tune out anything when I'm focused. One time our office had a song playing on repeat for hours and we were all so focused, nobody noticed until around lunch or so LOL For some reason I just don't see much about her. Maybe I'll see an article once a month about her relationship but that's about it.

She was definitely more attractive in her country era.

I agree. I don't see the massive hype around her. It's one thing to love a celebrity but what she has is more than cult like.

SirBets - October 6, 2025, 5:26 am

I don't know, man Taylor Swift has some great tracks

One of my ex's was so obsessed with her and I couldnt even put my own music on in my car because she wouldnt listen to anything but her. As you can guess its partly why shes a ex.

RangoWorld - October 11, 2025, 6:53 am

I heard her new Album. Only liked a couple of songs.

I would rate it 2/5.

I am so tired of hearing and seeing anything about Taylor Swift. Yeah, she's everywhere lately. Hard to avoid her songs at this point.

I find it you just dont say her name then you dont hear her rubbish. oh and dont even touch radio stations. That helps a lot too.

Haha true! Just block her out completely and life instantly gets more peaceful. Radio makes it impossible to escape sometimes though.

I once had a ex who would only listen to her crap. I would try and put my own stuff on in the car but no had to be Taylor swift or nothing I ended up turning the radio off every time.

Haha I feel that. Sometimes it's just safer to ride in silence than argue over music choices.

There is a reason why she is a ex. Her being obsessed with taylor swift is gotta be near the top. The other being how she wouldnt let me be myself or have fun lol.

Haha sounds like you dodged a bullet there ? nothing worse than someone who can't let you just be yourself.
