Where's the first place you're jumping too?

I'm headed to some remote islands. Places only a handful of people in the world have ever seen.

V?rt - October 5, 2025, 3:04 pm pretty stereotypical answer, but I'm going straight into a bank vault or something that I can take some cash from.

plops - October 5, 2025, 3:05 pm

Where ever omni manages the hf server. Give myself the League award and teleport out.

Do you think you would need loads of money, if you could just teleport anywhere? I think that those objects we all love would start to become a little less important when you teleport anywhere at any time.

Reading this for some reason I thought you were gunna say something "and set it on fire" at the end. Lmao

I'd teleport to Switzerland for a peaceful escape in the mountains. The scenery and calm vibe are perfect. Then will think of other places where I can make more $$$ in a right way.

You could probably make a killing working over at Amazon teleporting with packages to people's doorsteps. Lmao

Well if anyone finds about it, you could just teleport away, so no big deal.

I'm headed to some remote islands. Places only a handful of people in the world have ever seen. Without any time constraints, would be old Jerusalem, kick it with Jesus or Ancient Egypt... hahaha You'll have to wear a ski mask or something. Keep that identity secret.

Lol Oh yeah, that would make me like a superhero with a hidden identity, working undercover just to deliver packages.?

Working undercover to make some bread!

onlineuser | D3RFER - October 6, 2025, 8:20 pm

Would you have to know the location of somewhere / someone?

Or could I just think of a person, and get teleported to that person or place?

I'm headed to some remote islands. Places only a handful of people in the world have ever seen. Depends on what kind of Teleportation it would be, is it powerful to just go anywhere based on thoughts or you need it to be some place that you need to visualize? Because if it is the latter, I can't just teleport inside a bank for instance as I'd have to know how it looks to even land inside.

lol. I guess I am getting too philosophical about it. I'd probably visit all the places that are on my bucket list of travelling.

Jamika - October 7, 2025, 11:25 am

The location where most hf members are from , to meet them and make real friends

Yeah for this case, just think of where you want to go, and poof!

Having to have already been to the place would certainly make things a bit more challenging, but just being able to imagine would make it almost too easy.

Grab the sewing machine and get to work!

Real friends are overrated; you can just leave people on read when they are standing directly in front of you

I would go visit Satoshi and ask him who he is and a lot more.

That mystery had me crazy for years, and still does.

And then I would kindly ask him to hand over those 980,000 BTC to me, since he had decided not to use them.

Spore - October 7, 2025, 3:47 pm

Right now I'd hop over to the Outer Banks. Not sure why but recently I've got the hankering for seeing it for the first time

?ystem - October 7, 2025, 5:01 pm

Probably would be to my partner's home to surprise them. I have to ask but is it just a one time event or is it a new skill I could readily use whenever I've learned to master it? Because I've got plans.

Love the Outer Banks, and specific place over there you'd like to visit? I go about 3 times a year.

Just a new skill you have acquired and can use as you please.

Satoshi knows that BTC will be worth 1.7 Mil per BTC in the next 10 years, setting him up to have 16 trillion by the time it does.

aj33b9009 - October 8, 2025, 9:34 am

I wish to jump to Hawaii... I love the sea and nature

RangoWorld - October 9, 2025, 1:24 am

If oxygen is not an issue. Or I get a suit then I'm teleporting to the moon. I just want to see how it feels to be on the moon, seeing the Earth.

sharn - October 26, 2025, 7:59 am

I would eat at the best restaurants around the world.

Long flights would no longer matter.
