

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: Show exact progress numbers for award goals

Fish - October 6, 2025, 3:32 am

Right now, the Award Goals tab shows each challenge and your progress as a percentage. For example, for Octoberfest, it might say you're 20% complete toward 500 posts and 30 threads.

My suggestion is to display the exact numbers alongside the percentage. So instead of just showing a progress circle, it could say something like:

"100 / 500 posts, 3 / 30 threads"

Similarly, for sportsbook, it could show how much you've bet so far in the required time frame.

This would make it easier to track progress, rather than estimating based on percentages.

Yanix - October 6, 2025, 3:35 am

That's actually a solid idea, showing exact numbers would make tracking much easier.

It would definitely help members stay more motivated and on track. By the way how far have you gone so far?

Ieste - October 6, 2025, 3:39 am

That would be perfect, but a little math is enough.

Charlie Sheen - October 6, 2025, 5:43 am

Hope this helps - <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6310352>

Hackers - October 8, 2025, 11:16 am

(Oct 6, 2025 05:43 AM)Charlie Sheen Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Hope this helps -

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6310352>

I reported a bug once & was given the award, but do you know if there's still a bug for thread vs post counts?

Specifically, threads were counted as 'posts' so it could show 100% progress if you make too many threads, but not enough posts - which resulted in no award for me at the time.

It might be fixed, I forget the outcome.

Omniscient - October 8, 2025, 2:55 pm

I'm concerned about changing the format. I'll think about it.

Jamika - October 10, 2025, 1:36 pm

(Oct 8, 2025 02:55 PM)Omniscient Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I'm concerned about changing the format. I'll think about it.

That would be excellent man ???

charlie one is good but will not work if u use chrome or on mobile

Charlie Sheen - October 11, 2025, 7:35 am

(Oct 10, 2025 01:36 PM)Jamika Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) That would be excellent man ???

charlie one is good but will not work if u use chrome or on mobile
It works on Chrome browser. It should also work on mobile with the Firefox browser.

Omniscient - October 11, 2025, 9:23 am

Looking at the code, I'd have to make major changes to how this functions and really it's just not worth it.

Sorry.

Jamika - October 11, 2025, 9:34 am

(Oct 11, 2025 07:35 AM)Charlie Sheen Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) It works on Chrome browser. It should also work on mobile with the Firefox browser.

Code Device compatibility: You can only use extensions and themes on computers. You can't install extensions and themes when you're using a mobile device, even if you set it in desktop mode. It needs kiwi browser on Android, also not working on iphones

RangoWorld - October 11, 2025, 10:02 am

(Oct 6, 2025 05:43 AM)Charlie Sheen Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Hope this helps - <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6310352>
Thanks for this.

I will try.

The Pact - October 21, 2025, 1:14 am

It sounds like the coding would be too much work. I will say the only time I have had an actual problem with this has been with two of the Octoberfest awards. I got slightly frustrated that I had 100% but wasn't seeing the award.

But now that I understand that it's not exact it's fine. I'm not sure why that happened with the pumpkin awards, but not the Stanley Award.

Maybe when introducing a new award one could mention that if someone sees they are at 100% but don't see the award that the percentage is not exact and they may still need to make posts.

Mix - October 21, 2025, 11:08 pm

(Oct 6, 2025 05:43 AM)Charlie Sheen Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Hope this helps - <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6310352>

This has made my life easier since I finally got around to getting it all setup today. So can recommend.