Thread: Seeking Remote Red Team / Offensive Security Role \(EMEA\)

nsh531 - October 8, 2025, 1:23 pm

Hello community,

I'm actively seeking a remote Red Team / Offensive Security position within the EMEA (Europe, Middle East & Africa) region. I am looking for a fully remote or remote-first role that focuses on hands-on offensive security responsibilities.

Core skills & experience:

- Adversary emulation & penetration testing
- Social engineering, lateral movement, privilege escalation Post-exploitation, persistence, and evasion techniques
- Threat analysis across EMEA and experience collaborating with distributed teams

Looking for:

- Remote / remote-first Red Team or Offensive Security role
- A practical, proactive team that values creative problem-solving and strong tradecraft

About me:

I am on the autism spectrum (high-functioning) and work with an employment mentor to ensure a good professional fit. For coordination or verification, my job coach Shlomo can be reached at +972-52-428-2481.

Contact: nsh531@gmail.com

If you have leads, recruiter contacts, or openings, please PM me or post replies. Any shares or introductions are greatly appreciated!

Posting in Jobs & Partnerships should give you somewhat of a chance to find working, but seeing as whitehats aren't technically allowed to be on here in many cases....
