What's ur dream job

My ideal job would be to have an educational TV show that would focus for 1 hour each week on a classroom in a foreign country. Minimum of translation or imposed interpretation. Just let kids see how differently things are done elsewhere.

To be a good reseller

My dream job is probably something around human-aid in warzones. But I'm too comfortable in this life to blow everything up. When I have nothing to lose I'll probably give it a try.
