The fears that make zero logical sense but still have you on edge.
Definitely forgetting to mute myself and hearing, "Uh, we can hear you."

Have you always been scared of snakes or did something cause it?

RangoWorld - October 12, 2025, 1:28 am

You'd hope they do, especially if that's their fear

No it's not so much about slipping IN the shower, more when I am getting out. It is a bathtub/shower you know, so I have to step over the side to get out. Plus slip mats get all moldy and nasty. ick.

Scared of em killing me. Like I can see them in the store and it's fine but if I see one out in the wild I get a little freaks out. I don't go ballistic though
