Thread: Operation 'Post In Lounge For Award'

Lowkey - October 13, 2025, 4:10 pm

Thank you all for joining me here today. I've decided to launch a covert operation (under the radar) to acquire posts in the lounge for an award and need you all to respond to this thread with your favorite color.

The reason for this thread you ask? Well, let's just say with all the other HQ threads being made I'm sure mine will slip through the cracks (it's medium quality)

So lets hear that favorite color

No, I'm only going to make more - because of how insane this all is.

But are you doing it to get the award? Or to prove a point that it's insane? Because we had people post all 30 threads and 500 posts straight and it was not deemed to be insane. So give that thought up.

I mixed up two flavors of buldak noodles for dinner and it was pretty good.

Favourite colour currently is my UB. It's pretty sick

Hackers - October 14, 2025, 4:59 am

Hard to pick just one color, so I'll go with black, the absence of light, or white, the inclusion of all colors / light.

If I need to pick just one, then I guess green?

I really don't have a favorite color. I used to, but I love many different colors for different purposes.

I figured since I'm going for the October fest award that i should just focus on posting here so I can also get the Lounge reward too. 2 birds with 1 stone you know. Maybe I can even try posting on Stanley's threads to bag that award too lol ? my problem is I can't just post a few words and be done, if I'm replying to something I have to type out everything that I want

There's not an argument to dismantle. You didn't get the most obvious tongue in cheek humour that far more than half the forum wouldn't have taken seriously.

You're quoting things out of context. I never used the word stupid. "Get outta here" is also a common joking around phrase. Are you really so literal minded that you think every time someone says "Get outta here" that they're literally telling you to leave??? You have issues.

Anything related to "harassment" was also taken out of the Help Documents, so if you're going to be a baby your option is to block me, since you're apparently so angry about my being staff.

Try to hide behind false excuses. I'm not jealous of you, your contributions to the forum are basically the same from Stanley, what a great addition to the Staff team. Putting a pink member as Staff is definitely the worst idea ever. Omni is losing his mind.

When I was young it was red. Picked the red power ranger on my PlayStation game. As I've grown older I don't have a favorite color anymore. That being said I am a big fan of aesthetics. For user groups I love Edens color scheme. For cars I love either a black or white base with a splash of color. Green, Blue, Purple neon lights under a solid white sporty car with black rims. Now that looks nice. I've never cared much for what brand my clothes are but I do try to match colors. A dark pair of blue jeans with a brighter solid color shirt. A light color of blue jeans with a dark solid color shirt. Pretty simple guy but I pay attention to how colors match. Not everyone does.
