How is everyone today? How was your weekend? How was your Monday?
Now its Tangent Tuesday, where everyone is going to go off on their own Tangent anyway.

So, I hope you enjoyed The Monday Club. Going to try and get one up for each day of the week.

Yeah, exactly as I was saying! A pancake is great, but a waffle? Love me a waffle.
And crepes! Can we talk about the crepes?

Not sure if I know how this works, but that ChatGPT sure is taking up 4GB of memory all by it's lonesome. No wonder it's being so slow if it has that much information to go through.

Yes ikne is right on this tangent. I like to soak mine in butter. Literally soak. It just turns into a mushy mass and I just let it slide down into my stomach like a bird eating a hifs

Thanks splolp, but what do you think of how mankind is one of the only primate species to not have a baculum?

Does it keep you up at night?

It does not keep me up. The fact that we worked out our penises so much that the muscles outgrew the need for a support bone actually make me sleep soundly and confidently.

Haha true, true

They think it could be because we evolved to be more monogamous with less focus on mating than other primates. Whereas others might have had mating rituals and seasons, we evolved into something more intimate, romantic, and with more thought to it. That's one leading theory.

Some religious people believe that the god(s) took out the baculum from his side, to make Eve.

Anyways, as I was saying, waffles are delicious and the code must be written too!

Chocolate chip - I don't mind it in pancakes, but wouldn't want it in a waffle, but if the waffle is in a dessert then a choco sauce can work.
