DAL-SHA - October 15, 2025, 2:01 pm

Well! The title says it all to me its the faces of the people who did me wrong through my life , some people i wish i can forget and some i wish i can remember , im the kind of person who holds a grudge and never forgive nor forgets ...

onlineuser | D3RFER - October 15, 2025, 2:05 pm

This thread is mind fugging me.

You with you didn't forget the faces about the people who did you wrong, but in the thread you say, you wish you could erase everything about them, huh?

Am I lost here, or?

However, I have BTC wallet, that I will sadly never be able to retrieve.
That sucks.

Take notes

Pimping - October 19, 2025, 11:50 pm

I wish i could remember my whole childhood like a lot of stuff has stuck with me but i wish i could remember it all vividly and how exactly i was feeling in those moments. it would help me with finding myself and realizing what i was like back and how things shaped me into the person i am today.

Especially because he's up to 60% in warnings and still refuses to be literate.

Last year I remembered a fuckton of incredible stuff that was really shocking to remember and shocking to have forgotten.

I've forgotten a lot of interesting thoughts, ideas, revelations and epiphanies I've had while high. Rip all them 1m$ ideas.

I understand where you're coming from, but eventually you're going to have to learn to forgive, or it'll corrupt and destroy the beauty within you as a miracle of conception and birth.

One thing I regret forgetting is the face of the first person that was nice to me in elementary school. She died shortly after that moment due to an accident while she was riding her horse. I know she was a brunette, but that's all.

I always look at my youngest child and thinks.. "Man.. I can't really remember when my other kids were that young" It's weird. I mean you remember, but you don't.

There used to be a website called highdeas and it was made just for this reason. Amazing back in the day what you'd find on there lmao.

This might be weird, but there is a song that I have forgotten and I just can not find it. It was around 2009-2012 I saw that music video on TV.

Here in Finland we had these channels that had just like top 10 or 30 lists of new music and old etc. I remember seeing the music video multiple times but I just cant remember the name of the song. Which sucks and annoys me more than anything.

That sucks sir , but there are communities and Subreddits and a lot of resources available to help you find it ..

Do you at least remember any of the lyrics ??

I have tried, but the memories of the video are so hazy it is almost useless to even try at this point, my last hope is to just to literally hope I accidentally stumble upon the video some day. Lets hope that happens one day.

Why dont you ask AI to list all songs in your country that was released between 2009-2012 that has the same Genre / language of the song you forgot ?? i think this is a good start ..

The time I spend helping people to just get it thrown back at me and then find they take all the credit. THose people can move on and I will hold it to them till the day I die.

The sad thing about half of it is that I have had it happen to many times. its only recently in the last year I have pretty much made it so it cant happen anymore.

Tried that also. Even used the way back machine.

Like said I remember it was English, and just one detail of the video. There was a kid who dropped a toy, and right when the kid was going to pick it up. Someone pulled them away just in time before a car drove right over it. That is all I can remember, and I recall it would have been 2009 to 2012 but even that I can not be sure.

I have flashbacks to full memories of things with every conversation, every facial expression, tone of voice all the time. It's annoying honestly. It can be from any time of life including sometimes it is from when I was two.

i have a wallet somewhere with a few btc in it that i had set aside from the old exchange days, not that it would drastically change my life but it would be a nice bonus to spend on stupid shit.
