Thread: Windows Defender Killer

DramaKing - October 16, 2025, 3:09 pm

I have built a dropper that is capable of beating WD silly and not just bypassing it but muzzling it completely before downloading whatever malware. It is heavily obfuscated, encoded, compressed, encrypted, and whatever. It's good code, but the first person or two to request a copy will get it for free to test.

Price: $20

10/20: Fully tested and FUD, except for one AMSI detection during testing. Will reFUD binary as needed within three days of delivery.

Requesting a copy from you. Thanks.

Accepted contract for vouch copy.

Tyr - October 16, 2025, 4:07 pm

Accepted the contract as well. Will update this reply when you're set to get the show on the road. :)

Can I get a copy? I can leave a well-informed review!

Already have two vouches. I'm sure that Tyr will be posting his review any time now.

I'm Stanley HF's helper bot. The OP (original poster) of this thread wants everyone to see this page and has elected to bump it to the top of the showthread listing. Since HF doesn't want a ton of LQP (Low Quality Posts) this is the best method of bumping your content. There is a small ?yte fee for each bump. Any OP can bump any of their threads on HF from the linked icon on the top of their first post.

If you haven't already read the first post of this thread we encourage you to do so.

Thanks,
Stanley

Are you selling a program that shuts down WD? If it's not FUD, or if it gets detected during use, do I have to pay again?

Shuts it down. Blasts safeguards and disables the kit and kaboodle. If it gets detected, previous installs won't be.

So, for example, if I want to run my personal program, do I need to run that program and then run my program again?

The dropper only needs to run once on a host unless WD is manually re-enabled.
