Thread: Parents Said She Was Missing for 27 Years Found Starving in their Home.

The Pact - October 16, 2025, 10:28 pm

Mirella, 42, is last known to have left her house at the age of 15, and was found emaciated with leg injuries in July. She was found starving in their home.

Mirella in local outlets, was found in a residence in Swietochlowice, about 180 miles from the Polish capital of Warsaw

Her adopted parents lied to everyone that she had reunited with her biological parents.

She keeps telling police that she wasn't held against her will, but look at her arm in this photo!
Horrific.

Police have not laid charges because she says she wasn't held against her will, but they are looking into whether there was abuse.

Mirella reportedly had a normal school life with no concerning signs before her disappearance. Her former school principal told Fakt she was removed in September 1997, four months into high school, "at the request of her parents."

Politicians don't want to spend the money and don't want home schooling parents to get all angry about their rights, but all the stories of the most horrific abuse and torture nowadays in the USA and Europe include pulling the child out for fake homeschooling. Write to your local politician about this matter. I don't live in either place to do it myself.
