I tried to buy crypto to get sent to my ledger, through ledger.

First time it failed as my bank fraud held it. So it's authorization will find out, I tried after clearing the fraud hold, again pended the same transaction against my account failed... They sent me an email stating it'll be released back within 10 days.

What a wonderful way to tie up $500

Honestly with the amount of problems youve been having youre better off just using p2p.

My client had the same problems as you literally 2 days ago, you're better off switching to a different wallet

Great that is what my wallet uses too. What do you mean by bank fraud?
