ThreatsDay Bulletin: MS Teams Hack, MFA Hijacking, $2B Crypto Heist, Apple Siri Prob

Cyber threats are evolving faster than ever. Attackers now combine social engineering, AI-driven manipulation, and cloud exploitation to breach targets once considered secure. From communication platforms to connected devices, every system that enhances convenience also expands the attack surface.

This edition of ThreatsDay Bulletin explores these converging risks and the safeguards that help

$2 Billion crypto heist is pretty big news

Oh_Well - October 18, 2025, 11:22 am

"crypto heist". Is it a heist for real or is it money laundering? We'll never know

DAL-SHA - October 19, 2025, 2:29 am

2B$ Crypto ?? o.O

that's an absurd amount ...?

Ieste - October 19, 2025, 4:39 am

AI isn't just defending systems anymore it's attacking them too.

In February there was a 1.46B heist:

Quote:Fueled by the record-breaking theft of $1.46 billion from Dubai-based cryptocurrency exchange Bybit in February, DPRK threat groups have more than tripled last year's tally of just over $700 million, Elliptic said in a report published Tuesday.

Wasn't the 2B from clipping that CEO when he adding his liquidity ?

They would of stolen much more over the year
