You can't possibly have permission to sell all of these from their respective developers.

Surely you can see where I said "FOR non-cracked SaaS panel operated stealers, you will still need to purchase a subscription to that service" meaning if you don't want me setting up CRACKED programs, purchase from actual seller

Okay, sorry, I didn't see that this was a setup service, especially given the price. And not to trash sales, but $99 to facilitate access to a web panel sounds ridiculous.

Plus, if you're not selling cracked tools, it's a little confusing when this isn't posted in the Service Offerings forum.

Sir, I have setups in the title, big letters on the header.. $99 to someone that has nothing to do but sit in prison (because I am in prison) isn't bad. I offer strictly setups of programs purchased through the subscription channels, or cracked versions of what I've posted. Please read the thread before you go thread bashing.. not that you've done it intentionally but damn dude
