Glad we entered the bull market for around an hour!

Honestly i really am never negative about bitcoin or any top altcoins but this month has pissed me off very much. every single little pump has been getting sold off and sentiment is at worst. all this price action is definitely insiders manipulating the price because other wise makes no sense.... etf inflows was positive today aswell everything besides tariffs is in place for a rally but it is just not coming. first time i actually am scared about the market in at least 3 years so this will probably mark a bottom hahaha

Jim cramer stated that crypto is due for a push today . brace for impact this guy has a 100% record of everything doing the opposite he says.

That bull market felt like a speed bump ?. Could ride high in December, could crash. Crypto loves chaos.

I haven't been paid with ADA in months. I think since it's inception, I've had just 2 ADA payments. There is nothing magical about ADA anymore. Most of the crypto bros are onto something else. It's going nowhere fast.
