It's almost Friday and some may already be in it!

Anyone doing anything interesting?

It's Fried-day! Used to be my favorite day of the week growing up since it meant the weekend was tomorrow and no school mmm, definitely a good day growing up.

It still is good for me, but I prefer Saturday or Sunday, when it already is the weekend thanks, not 100% sure where we'll land on the username yet... but this is good for now! :)

I'm surprised nobody has seen the secret text between the images in my post, and also surprised a bot hasn't fallen for it yet.

I'm guessing statistically Friday's are bad days for a lot of people because of alcohol. :<

Alcohol is a sin!!

I don't drink to get tipsy, but I will have a beer from time to time.

Quote:Enki and Ninmah drank beer, their hearts became elated, and then Ninmah said to Enki:
"Man's body can be either good or bad and whether I make a fate good or bad depends on my will."

If this sentence is to be believed, then sinning is defined by the gods, who may or may not be drinking beer when they rule on the ethics of drinking beer.

That said:
> beer = depressant

- > beer = fattening
- > beer = dehydrating
- > beer = less inhibition, more impulse

Not a fan of beer or alcohol these days. I used to love it, but if you're confident & happy, it can only bring you down. For me, i feel better and looser without alcohol, but once upon a time, this was not the case.

Nice, that's a good idea. I got my Lounge head last year after halloween had passed... I should've doubled up on the efforts to save time, but oh well

Best of luck! don't forget to flip in convo each day (must end up ++ in green each day) for 10 days for the Flip Reaper award :)

These are the flip amounts and statistically, you should hit a green. It can happen where you go 10 in a row though... If you have a few K to spare, you can realistically get through statistical odds with martingale.

However... 10 days of flipping... Statistically you will hit good & bad streaks over a 10 day period like this.
