With 1.7B stripped from the CS2 skin market how much did you value did you loose ?

People have been reported to have committed suicide over the update

Peoples skin portfolios worth a fraction of what it was before INSANE

I didnt lose anything since i have skins that are worth $3 max hahaha yeah it is insane a lot of people have lost so much money. this is a bad decision on valves end

since i believe a lot of people will stop playing now too

Like in my opinion the only thing good about csgo is the crates and skins so now that that is pretty much gone.... what else is there to look forward to. I dont think people care about playing csgo like in the 2000s-2010s.. it is more now about an investment or unboxing rare skins and selling them for money/flexing in game

Yeah man it was the only big feature to it , i have never played it but i have always thought about buying crates , i know people that have no interest in the game but trade and sell skins

Its sucks that people have been playing and collecting for so long for people to just cut the value

I only had a couple of skins, but they dropped hard.

Painful but true.

$500 vanished with the CS2 update.
I feel robbed by CS2.

Not the worst loss i have seen peoples 125k skin portfolios down to 20k

People have actually committed over it crazy stuff
