Really cool if you to do something like this man. Im not sure if youre randomly selecting a winner or if youre picking whoever needs it the most / has a good reason for needing. I just finally accessed my OG account (this account) after being locked out of it for a couple years. I'm about to start selling products on here and am trying to get my account nice and official looking. Having this many bytes could help me to beef up my account stats and get me ready to start selling. Regardless, I think what you're doing is awesome. I wish you all the best, and I'll even make an oath. If I win this contest, anyone who can provide proof to me that you actually participated in this contest as well, once I do start selling on here, gets a 5%-10% discount. I give you my word I'll hold up to this gauntee/oath. Hope this was a nice enough post, (as it stated was one of the requirements) thanks and best luck to everyone!
