I like those peanut butter things in the orange or black wrappers. Everyone else don't like them, so more for me.

5th Ave and Baby Ruth. Butterfinger if I'm in a pinch, but they're not near as good as a 5th Ave

EDIT: Almost forgot about Paydays, Paydays are good af

You're missing out. Everyone always goes for the mainstream bars like Reese's and KitKat, you don't know what you're missing. Try random candy bars that you haven't had yet and I guarantee you'll find a new favorite.

Even with peanut butter cups. Reese's isn't even close to the best, there's also Boyer's Peanut Butter Cups, Clark Cups, and Gardners Peanut Butter Meltaway Cups. Give those a shot and you won't even like the overly sweet, grainy shit that is Reese's

Do you have a favorite Halloween candy?

I like the same including heresy's cholate. I would eat them.

However, at my age I would rather eat a pizza or some good food than candy.

I was crazy for candy as a kid but I think for me when I aged the candy is the same but there's nothin exciting about it anymore.

I would still eat it if I am offered it but would prefer going out to eat food.

Have you ever tried those weird kit-kats? I love the original ones but haven't tried the other flavors other than white calcite kit-kat.

I want to try and eat the green-tea flavor.

Jinu - October 31, 2025, 2:05 am

Recess and KitKat are my favorite. Though we don't celebrate here.

I think I always favor a different one but I'd have to say Reese cups now

Prepper - October 31, 2025, 3:36 pm

I don't celebrate Halloween anymore, too old.

And no I totally did not buy a big bag of skittles, skittles gummies and gummy life savers as well as a big back of kitkats, york mints, mounds for my personal candy needs, this did not happen.

I would say Watchamacallit and Kitkat are my favorites though.
