

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: Epstein Accuser Virginia Giuffre 'didn't kill herself

The Pact - November 1, 2025, 6:04 am

Virginia Giuffre's father has broken his silence with a chilling declaration: "There's no way my daughter killed herself. Somebody got to her."

Giuffre, once a teenage girl caught in the orbit of Jeffrey Epstein's empire, became a central figure in the global reckoning over sex trafficking and elite abuse. Her accusations against Prince Andrew—claiming he exploited her when she was just 17—shook the monarchy and ignited international outrage. The Duke has denied the allegations, but the shadow cast by Giuffre's story remains.

She was found dead last Friday in her Western Australia home—an apparent suicide, according to police, who quickly stated that "early indication is the death is not suspicious."

But the official narrative unraveled within days.

On Thursday, Virginia Giuffre's father, Sky Roberts, sat down with Piers Morgan and delivered a gut-wrenching rebuke: "There's no way my daughter took her own life. Somebody got to her."

His voice cracked as he described the moment he learned of her death. "I couldn't even believe it. I started crying right away. I'm still crying," he said. "I can't believe this is happening. It's just... impossible."

The grief was raw. The disbelief, total.

Despite investigators claiming no signs of foul play, Giuffre's own words cast a long shadow. She had repeatedly insisted she was not suicidal, and warned that if she were ever found dead by her own hand, it should be treated as suspicious.

<https://www.msn.com/en-us/family-and-relationships/parenting/virginia-giuffre-s-father-says-there-is-no-way-daughter-killed-herself/ar-AA1E064R>