Thread: What do you know isn't real, but want badly for it to exist?

Flariuu - November 18, 2025, 3:25 pm

Could be from fiction, something you imagined, or something that just doesn't exist yet. Examples: Teleportation, device to share dreams, time travel, perfect memory, a way to heal emotional pain instantly

For me, time travel, even to be able to travel back like 10 seconds just to fix a mistake would be amazing imo.

What about you?

I really badly want time travel and teleportation would be good too.

I agree 100%, especially teleportation. I'm a huge fan of the author Steven Gould and his series of novels.

Time travel.

I could go back and fix stupid mistakes and make smarter choices.

Yanix - November 29, 2025, 11:28 pm

Oh yeah teleportation maybe, cause I'd love to teleport and jump across different places like the world is my personal doorway.

Time travel to fix past mistakes..

Invisibility for perverted ideas..

Time travel.

I want to travel to the past as my current self. But 20 years back. So I can meet the one I loved the most.

Aliens. I just know something has to be out there and we are not alone

Superpowers, but not like overpowered types, like the DCU or MCU, just powers that people would use in their daily lives. Practicing enough of a mundane skill might turn it hero worthy.

System From Novels it may never exist or it's already existing but we don't know but still I want it to exist I want a chance to go from Unknown to extra and then try to be protagonist in life just one chance??

Pokemon, imagine they would be real

Astaroth - December 16, 2025, 2:48 pm

On my Christmas wish list of fantasy items are:

Time travel kit and invisibility cloaking overcoat.

JoshAllen - December 16, 2025, 3:56 pm

Ghosts. Going around spooking people would be fun.

ava_luv - December 16, 2025, 4:38 pm

i'd want the ability to learn at supernatural speeds; that way i can get multiple degrees and get rich.

Having the capability to reverse our life past decisions and start all over again just like an undo feature in computer world
