Thread: What always makes you nostalgic?

Can be things like hearing a childhood song, revisiting a favorite place, remembering a first big accomplishment, or a feeling from a certain time in life

For me, I always get nostalgic when I revisit things like old songs/games/shows from my childhood. What about you?

Smell.

I was walking back to the office, and it was the first time in a few months I'd worn a certain cologne the wind hit just right and had a massive flashback to the office I used to wear it in all the time, and was a bit odd standing around sheep shit wondering why I felt so comfortable.

Was a bit odd for sure.

Music at times, but more reminds me of teenage angst years for the most part. I'd settle on Smell over Sound for me.

Old songs, old games, board games and playing sports.

Videogames from my youth (2010ish) easily.

This was peak gaming for me.

Old family photos make me nostalgic.
They remind me of simpler days.
