NOTEPAD TIPS & TRICKS

Okay, Ive been looting my drives for my old tutorials on small notepad hacks that were fun to work with when I was in school... If you were anything like the mischevious student like I was back then, then this thread should be easy and fun!

Programs Used:

1. Notepad
2. Command Prompt
3. Your Fingers

Trick #1

CMD opener

Step a. Open notepad

- b. Goto File->Save As
- c. Save the file as "cmd.bat"
- d. In the workarea/textarea type this:

Code start

command.exe

- e. Press Ctrl+S
- f. Run

Trick #2

VBLoops

Step a. Open notepad

- b. Type this:

Code Do

set a=msgbox("Penis",4069,"Warning")

Loopnote: you can change the text "Penis" in the parentheses to your heart's desire...literally

- c. Goto File->Save As
- d. Save as "Penis.vbe"
- e. Run

Trick #3

Voice Recognition Loop

Step a. Open notepad

- b. Type this:

Code Do

Text=inputbox("Enter the text you want here","TextToSpeech")

```
Set ObjSpeech =CreateObject("SAPI.spVoice")
ObjSpeech.speak Text
Loop
c. Goto File->Save As
d. Save as "speak.vbe"
e. Run

NOTICE:All scripts can be easily aborted by right-clicking the Desktop Taskbar/Startbar and selecting TaskManager, then searching for "wscript.exe" and ending the process

Nice man, thanks!

I didn't even know about .vbe. What is that like? Visual Basic?

.vbe is universal and .vbs has internal file saving errors (nerdy crap)... the jist is .vbe is wayy better

How to crash someone's computer with a command prompt script like this one...

```
command.com
start command.com
```

2 lines are all you need ^^ . save it as anything.bat.

The TextToSpeech was an amazing tip !

Sadly it only speak on english ?

Would be exelent if it can speak on all idioms.?

Code @echo off

:loop

start

GOTO loop

welp.

but really, who still fucks with .bat files =\
