December 2

See All Deals At Woot

Amazon is a great spot to find Black Friday deals, but don't miss out on the discounts at Woot. Though it's not as popular, Woot is an Amazon company--meaning you can easily sign in with your Amazon account--and right now it's running the aptly named Video Game Mega Sale. Dozens of games and accessories are on sale until December 2, and we've listed some of our favorites below. However, Woot is offering a Black Friday-exclusive bonus offer for an additional 20% (up to a maximum $40 discount) when purchasing these items through the Woot app on your smartphone until Black Friday ends. You'll see the final discounted price at the very end of the checkout process (no promo code required), so consider downloading the app to save a few extra bucks. Check out our picks for the best Switch, Switch 2, PS5, and gaming accessory deals in Woot's sake below. And don't forget to hit up GameSpot's Black Friday Deals Hub for more of the best discounts available this weekend.

Switch 1 & 2 Game Deals

Mario Kart World, Animal Crossing: New Horizons, Pokemon Legends: Arceus

Only a few Switch 2 games are discounted at Woot, including Mario Kart World, The Legend of Zelda: Breath of the Wild Switch 2 Edition, and Super Mario Party Jamboree + Jamboree TV. The standard deals for all three aren't exciting (they're just $1 off), but you can save 20% when you purchase through the Woot app. That would bring Breath of the Wild down to $55.20 and both Mario Kart World and Super Mario Party Jamboree + Jamboree TV to $63.20 each.

Switch games are seeing much better deals. The ever-popular Animal Crossing: New Horizons is just $47 (was $60), and the cozy adventure is a perfect match for the cold winter days ahead. Mario Kart 8 Deluxe and Super Smash Bros. Ultimate are both discounted to $45 each (normally $60), while Luigi's Mansion 3 is down to $30 (was $60), and Donkey Kong Country: Tropical Freeze is $47 (was $60).
