Hello friends, why did you come to this website?

Of course, to learn about hacking or cybersecurity, get advice from others, and improve yourself in this field.

-----0-0-0-0-0-----

And now, I want not only those who want to learn, but also hackers or cybersecurity experts who are experts in this field, to share the best, most useful, and most secure programs and tools they use for cybersecurity, penetration testing, and defense, without expecting anything in return, so that others can learn as well.

What are these called, how are they used, and where can they be safely downloaded?

Let's support each other this way!
