I've been using IBIT to trade Bitcoin since its easier for me to move in and out of, does anyone else use any familiar ETFs that track Bitcoins price?

Which platform do you use? Just curious. Are trading fees free?

I was into MSTR but I'm totally out.

For those who want to read up on IBIT...

It's not really that hard to sign up for a KYC exchange and just go between BTC and USDT/USD. Meh on the ETF unless it's held in some type of retirement fund.

You could be activating a lot of Short-Term Capital Gains with trades of ETF.

I do it on Fidelity with commission-free trading
