Thread: Finally Upgraded Myself to L33t

Axelyn - December 11, 2025, 7:55 am

After spending some time on this forum, I felt like it was the right moment to upgrade myself to L33t. I have learned a lot here already, so taking this step felt natural.

I am hoping this upgrade helps me grow my business as well. Maybe I will meet the right people, find some guidance, or get solutions to problems I might face in the future. HF has a mix of knowledge, experience, and different perspectives, so being more involved here can only help me improve.

Thank you to everyone who keeps the community active. I plan to stay around, contribute when I can, and keep learning from the rest of you.

Welcome to the "fold" :D

But seriously nice to see that people want to upgrade to l33t
Even tho it opens some doors, that the non l33t users do not have.
Remember to stay humble and curious.

cybr - December 11, 2025, 10:59 am

congrats my friend

R5N3T - December 11, 2025, 6:10 pm

Well done on reaching l33t status, buddy

If anyone knows this dude Axelyn and talks to Axelyn on discord or anything you better warn Axelyn right away that he's at risk of getting closed for not dealing with his deal dispute where he's accused of allegedly scamming FIVE DOLLARS and potentially, he's been running a fake contest.

I see that Axelyn hasn't been here since December 28, but Axelyn has ignored the claimant he allegedly scammed $5 from since December 16th. Omni is aware and this Axelyn needs to come back to HF and sort it out or he's going to lose his account

Sorry for not making that more clear in my original post Jamika.

Axelyn is at risk of getting closed for not sorting out his deal dispute where he's accused of allegedly scamming FIVE DOLLARS and potentially, he's been running a fake contest.

So, I really hope someone here is friends with him on Telegram or something so that he can pay the $5 Lite coin and give Omni the 100 Bitcoin so the contest can go ahead and Axelyn can avoid getting closed.
