Thread: Something I Wanted Since Childhood, But Only Achieved as an Adult

R5N3T - December 27, 2025, 6:34 am

When I was a kid, I had simple dreams. Some felt impossible back then. Funny thing is, I didn't get them when I really wanted them. I only achieved them much later, when I was already an adult. Life works in strange ways. Sometimes dreams don't come late, we just weren't ready yet. What about you?

Well, I wanted to fuck a chick.. Get married, Get kids..

Now I realize how dumb it was..

Well the story deviates a little and i would say that in childhood i was thinking that i have some people near me but those was just some snakes who dont want me to be succesful .And unfortunately those people where very close to me not just some friends

Life really changes our perspective. What we wanted back then doesn't always match what truly matters to us now, and that's part of growing up.

Sadly, that happens a lot. The hardest lesson is realizing that not everyone close to you truly wants to see you succeed. At least now you're wiser and stronger.

Yea I agree. I also had many dreams as a kid that was achieved later in my life. But then you realize those dreams were small compared to what you want now.

Everything takes time, there's no reason to rush it. It will come to you when it is ready.

True that, at one point all I ever wanted was a game boy advance.... damn, life was simpler back then.

Haha, right? No "daddy issues" jokes here, just me rambling about life lessons ? Maybe next time I'll bring the drama!

As a kid, I always wanted to be an adult and drive a car. Only the car part has come true, if you know what I mean. Hahaha. :)
