Thread: Happy New Year 2026

Omniscient - January 1, 2026, 10:49 am

Good morning all, it's 2026. We are past another year and into a brand new one. Out with the old and in with the new. This is our chance to refresh our daily lives and embrace the future.

For HF, I have some immediate plans to run a promotion for the month. Those details will be coming shortly in a new thread. But I also plan on some new development, getting off my butt and actually making things happen. I'm excited about 2026, I hope you are too.

For my NYE I was out with the wife at a party on the Las Vegas Strip in a condo. It was an enjoyable evening where I met many interesting people. I'd love for you to share your NYE story and any resolutions or plans you might have for 2026.

Thank you.

Happy New Year Omni ?

I quit smoking. That's my resolution.

A little one will soon arrive into our lives. My second baby.

Happy New Year Omniscient I wish you peace of mind and good health this year, because wealth is already yours. I spend the New Year Eve with my wife as well, and in 2026 I have plans to execute no slacking at all.

Prawnster - January 1, 2026, 12:18 pm

Happy new year! :)

I spent NYE with the Mrs, I was drinking whiskey and we were watching films n shit on TV - It was nice AND cheap too which is always a bonus!

Happy New Year! Looking forward to forum updates, lots of opportunity this year.

I'm looking forward to building more and keeping track of the year, not letting it fly by.

Last year went by way too fast. Time seems to be flying. Trying to live this year in the moment.

Happy New Year to my pinky ring and my recently obtained knowledge of the gnosticism + occult + hermetic teachings on manifesting and custom crafting your own reality to whatever you want it to be.

If we look at the anno mundi, or "year of the world" we can determine the true year to celebrate: 5786 (abbreviated as "????")

Here's to another 5786 years ?

From the entire Legends Group:

Happy New Year to the entire Hackforums community!

Wishing everyone a strong year ahead! ???

INCREDIBLE - January 2, 2026, 4:22 am

I was planning to have an outing with friends, but then I thought of staying home with the kids in this chilly winter. And this is what I have been doing for the last 3 years after becoming a Father.

and it seems, a few more years nothing is going to be changed as I'm a family man.

Endorphins - January 2, 2026, 4:32 am

Cheers to another year with y'all! ?

Deany - January 2, 2026, 6:39 am

Happy new year hope you all have a wonderful one

I had a great NYE this year actually. Started off normal with some friends out to dinner, we went to the new hibachi grill that just opened up near me, it was great. They also had some NYE celebrations at the restaurant.

Then we went to a popular ocean-view rooftop bar in my city to watch a fireworks show on the water once it hit midnight. We got some drinks and some delicious warm pretzel bites with melted queso cheese, and calamari. I know, very odd combo and post-meal desert lol. But the calamari came with balsamic vinegrette dressing so it was nice and sweet. Didn't stop there though, later in the night after leaving the bar, we stopped at a Haagen-Dazs that was open late for NYE and each got an ice cream. Also delicious.

By the end of the night we had all already had a great time, but one of us got a very last-minute invite to a party happening nearby in someone's suite. We started to head over and picked up a gift for the homeowner (got him a bottle of Whistle Pig whiskey) and some fireworks since he has roof lounge access from his suite. I don't recommend doing this though because if and when security inevitably finds out, they won't be happy lol. But we were able to have our fun regardless, and they weren't too upset in the end, even apparently watching the last of it before making themselves known.

The night ended with me getting home pretty late, and just had a nice relaxing rest of the night with my girl watching the new season of Stranger Things. Overall was a fantastic NYE.

sharn - January 2, 2026, 11:51 am

Happy New Year to you and your wife, and thank you for sharing your experience.

It sounds like a great way to end the year.

I spent NYE with family, starting with a special dinner and ending with a late-night walk outside to watch the fireworks.

haroldputu - January 3, 2026, 12:18 pm

happy late new year

I did the usual, bender of drugs above weed, so I can expunge the desire for another year.

Don't really see a point in bombing lots of LSD every other week, save the moment for something special, like a high shelf whisky.
