Thread: Hello! Looking for people to help me expand my Internet business. The pay is good. antonwilliams405 - January 11, 2026, 6:36 pm

Hello, there! My name is Anton, and I thought I would make an account here on this "Hack Forums" site and post this thread, as I am in search of some people to help me expand my Internet business. I am consistently making around $1500 USD (give or take) per month, but I want to make even more and make this my full time commitment. You will require good people skills and good computer skills (I will help you set everything up); this is not for everybody, though, and I am in search of some specific talent. If you are seriously interested, please reply to this thread and we will have a discussion. Thanks!
